

What do I get?

Challenging instruction from college and professional coaches and athletes.

Camper's will receive instruction in groups and possibly in one-on-one settings. Not only instruction on physical and mental techniques, but also in spiritual growth.

Great housing and meals.

Housing and meals are provided and built into the cost of the camp.

Official FCA Camp 2010 T-shirt.

Each camper will receive a T-shirt with this year's camp theme and logo on it.

A complimentary issue of FCA's national sports magazine, Sharing the Victory.

Sharing the Victory is a source of information about the world of FCA and its impact on the athletic community. Sharing the Victory contains articles about professional, college and high school athletes; as well as coaches and other sports related professionals.

FCA's Athlete's Bible with discussion guides and study.

The FCA Athlete's Bible is a great resource of the student athlete. A tool campers can take back to their campus and use to spread the gospel. It also makes a great resource that campers can draw from for personal growth.

With all of this free stuff you will also be getting care, instruction and guidance from some great camp staff.
